

“Only that which is read has a future”

With this motto in mind, G&K TechMedia GmbH has developed its high-quality special interest media for the package printing and converting industries. We provide our readers and customers with high-quality information on the most complex state-of-the-art technology.

Now, we are looking for an

Editorial department trainee for Content Editor (Cross media, m/f)

at our subsidiary in Emmendingen near Freiburg in beautiful Breisgau, Germany.

The trainee programme is for two years with the intention of offering a full-time position as Content Editor.

We will train you in the journalism of the future

We expect you to have the following

- Success in a technically oriented study course or to have equivalent knowledge
- Good writing skills and a sound understanding of technical matters
- Excellent knowledge of English, written and spoken, is an absolute must
- Understanding of the functioning of the World Wide Web and particularly of the major search machines and social networks; the SEO term should not be unknown to you

We offer

- Training inline with a new and avant-garde style job profile, with excellent future prospects
- A dynamic, team minded and pleasant working environment
- Excellent career prospects within a well-positioned and highly respected media company

If you are interested in this challenging position, which above all else requires you to have the ability to work in a team environment, we look forward to receiving your application in full – by e-mail to wessendorf@gk-techmedia.com. Please title your e-mail “Editorial department trainee”, and don’t forget to include your earliest starting date, and salary expectations. More information at www.flexo-gravure.com

G&K TechMedia GmbH